

I'm a flight attendant for a domestic carrier. I feel the use of cell phone usage in the air would not be a good thing. If there was an emergency can you imagine trying to get the pax to listen to commands when they all would be on the phone. It's a problem right now trying to get the pax to turn their phones off before push back. I just feel it would be one big chatter box. Thanks for your time.

Nancy McElwee